

Safe and Responsible Use of the Internet: A Guide for Educators

Nancy E. Willard, M.S., J.D.

Responsible Netizen Institute
474 W 29th Avenue
Eugene, Oregon 97405
541-344-9125
541-344-1481 (fax)
Web Site: <http://responsiblenetizen.org>
E-mail: info@responsiblenetizen.org

Copyright © 2002-03 Nancy E. Willard.

Table of Contents

Part I. Comprehensive Approach

1. Protection and Empowerment
2. Educational Purpose
3. Education about Safe and Responsible Use
4. Internet Use Policy
5. Supervision, Monitoring, and Appropriate Discipline
6. Planning and Implementation

Part II. Safe and Responsible Internet Use Plan

1. Children's Internet Protection Act
2. Inappropriate Material
3. Technology Protection Measures
4. Safety and Security of Students When Using Electronic Communications
5. Unauthorized Access and Other Unlawful or Inappropriate Activities
6. Disclosure of Personal Information of Students
7. Supervision, Monitoring, and Privacy

Part III. Legal Issues - Internet Use in School

1. District Liability Related to Access to Inappropriate Material or People
2. District Liability for Material Placed on Web Site or Transmitted Through System
3. District Liability to Students and Other Liability Concerns
4. Student and Staff Privacy Issues
5. Public Records
6. The Constitutionality and Advisability of the Use of Commercial Filtering Software in U.S. Public Schools
7. Student Speech
8. Academic Freedom
9. Copyright
10. Disability Information Technology Access

Part IV. Planning and Implementation Documents

1. Checklist for the Development of a Comprehensive Safe and Responsible Internet Use Plan
2. Internet Safe and Responsible Use Plan (document to provide parents and community)
3. District Internet Use Policy
4. District Internet Use Regulations
5. Student Internet Use Policy
6. Student Internet Account Agreement